UTAR's Commitment to the Community

Universiti Tunku Abdul Rahman (UTAR) was officially launched on 13 August 2002 as a not-for-profit private university committed to providing affordable quality education that offers more than 120 academic programmes and has more than 67,000 alumni. As a university by the people and for the people, UTAR aims to fulfil its commitment to the people and the community while guided by its vision to be a global university of research and educational excellence.

Therefore, on 16 November 2009, the UTAR Faculty of Medicine and Health Science (FMHS) was established with a team of highly experienced and qualified professors and professional medical doctors to educate and train medical students to provide quality medical services to the community. The pioneer batch of FMHS medical students consisting of MBBS students, Bachelor of Nursing (Hons) and Bachelor of Physiotherapy (Hons) students graduated in August 2015 and the first batch of Chinese Medicine students graduated in 2016. To date, UTAR has more than 700 graduates from the FMHS medical and health sciences programmes who are now contributing to the community and many who are working in the frontlines.

To ensure that our medical and health science staff and students can better serve the community and nation, and continue to train students to provide quality medical services, UTAR decided in 2015 to build a private not-for-profit specialist hospital in its UTAR Kampar Campus. The Hospital will offer affordable and quality Western and Traditional and Complementary Medicine which include Chinese Medicine and Ayurvedic Medicine, and will also provide clinical training for its students.

Financial Commitment of the Hospital

This UTAR Hospital is founded along the same guiding principle of the University, that is, a private not-for-profit Hospital that is funded by the generosity of philanthropists, donors, organisations, corporations and members of the community. Hence, UTAR has been actively sourcing support from the people to contribute towards the Hospital building fund. This noble cause has received tremendous support from various segments of the community and UTAR is indeed grateful for all the generous contributions, regardless of the amount.

In Phase 1 of the Hospital, there will be 250 beds in the main block and 100 beds in the TCM block. This Hospital development is estimated to cost about RM330 million which includes the Cost of Construction, Sourcing of Medical Equipment and Project Consultancy Cost. The TCM block is expected to be completed and operational before the end of 2021 and the Western medical block is scheduled to be operational in the second half of 2022.

UTAR is indeed happy to share this news of the Hospital development with you and we hope to continue receiving your support and donations in order for the Hospital to realise its aspiration to be a hospital for the people, by the people. Please feel free to circulate this to others who are interested to know more about the hospital and donate to the hospital.
